Message from Distilled Spirits Aotearoa and Spirits New Zealand

Another year and another amazing outcome for the New Zealand Spirits Awards. Growing year on year, and showcasing more and more amazing products from New Zealand and abroad. This year we had 480 entries for the blind tasting and award categories, with 317 from New Zealand and 163 from overseas.

We had a team of 22 judges who blind tasted and assessed throughout 16 categories.

The standard of entries this year was exceptionally high. All entries were assessed and marked and assigned their score. Then the best in category was chosen. At the end, all judges convene to determine the best in show. An incredibly hard decision to make with so much quality on offer.

The Spirits awards offer a special opportunity to highlight the quality of offerings available, celebrating both the ingenuity and care of craft behind the spirits on offer. Domestic products get the chance to be recognised against some of world's best. World producers have the opportunity to make themselves known in New Zealand, and producers have the opportunity to learn and grow and develop in their categories.

At the end the benefit for consumers is to gain confidence in the products available to them. To recognise the quality and fierce competition in the spirits industry, and rest assured that their drink of choice can be proven to stand up to a very high bench mark.

Message From the Head Judges

In a tough climate for international and domestic producers, it was rewarding to see such a high number of entries and a diversification across categories with growth in agave, vermouth & liqueurs and rum categories. Our judging panel strives to maintain a strict standard of judging and to offer careful consideration to the feedback for domestic producers - we love our industry and want consumers and hospitality professionals to truly enjoy the quality and creativity made possible by well-made, delicious ingredients. As ever, it's a privilege to be trusted to offer consideration and feedback to products made with such passion and dedication to excellence, and not one we ever take lightly. At the end of a week of intense discussion and debate, we trust the process to present results that represent the best of the industry. We're now excited to celebrate with you as we congratulate and discover this year's winners.

— Adam, Tash, Jo, Mikey, Mike, Joanne and Marcel
