The Events

FACT Day (Frontiers and Challenges in Transplantation) – Saturday June 15

- A full day (8am to 5pm) of engaging sessions for all transplant clinicians, scientists, and researchers. Featuring cutting edge updates in aspects of immunology through to clinical conundrums, including contemporary approaches to transplant management, immunosuppression, and infectious sequelae. This replaced the previous post-graduate and masterclass sessions.

Solid Organ Transplant Symposiums – Sunday June 16

- Concurrent sessions for Liver, Kidney/Pancreas and Cardiothoracic streams, led by the specific organ transplant Advisory Committees (10am to 3pm). These sessions will provide an opportunity for in-depth updates, discussion, and debate on evolving practice in the subspecialty fields.

Annual Scientific Meeting (ASM) – June 16-18

- The TSANZ ASM (Sunday 3.10pm to Tuesday 4pm) continues to be world leading in curating valuable programs for the benefit of all involved in organ transplantation and donation, including all trainees, allied health professions and specialists. Featuring local speakers and international keynote guests, the event is always a highlight for the transplantation sector in Australia and New Zealand.

Why Sponsor?

- TSANZ is the peak representative body of transplantation professionals in Australia and New Zealand. It aims to promote research, best clinical practice and advocacy to improve outcomes and increase access to organ transplantation in both countries
- The Society seeks to understand issues in transplantation including issues which determine access to organ transplantation
- The Society brings together transplantation professionals in medicine and science that share common ideals and principles
- TSANZ fosters and promotes a culture that supports high quality scientific research and education in solid and non-solid organ transplantation, encompassing research in the broad areas of Basic Science, Clinical Medicine, Epidemiology and Surgery.
- The TSANZ strongly endorses the Declaration of Istanbul on Organ Trafficking and Transplantation Tourism and supports the principles of the Helsinki Declaration on Scientific research.
