Abstract title:	Working across silos to create hauroa in schools
	Hauroa is created by people working together but does that really happen. Teachers do their bit, nurses do their bit, youthworkers and counsellors do their bit. Mana ake in primary schools in Christchurch has been contributing to bringing together all the “bits”. The ingredients are there in High Schools. This presentation will discuss how we can make this happen and invite the audience to think about what “together” means in their school.
