Sponsorship proposal

Health Care in Secure Settings 2023

The Health Care in Secure Settings conference is back in 2023 with Justice Health and Forensic Mental Health Network bringing together a program of expert speakers and presentations from the niche field of health care in custodial and forensic mental health settings.

The annual conference will be taking place as a hybrid event (accessible in-person and virtually) on Thursday 10 and Friday 11 August 2023 at the International Convention Centre (ICC) Sydney. The program, designed for and by health professionals, covers a variety of key issues, innovations, reforms and best practice.

About the host - Justice Health and Forensic Mental Health Network

The Health Care in Secure Settings conference is hosted by Justice Health and Forensic Mental Health Network (Justice Health NSW), the largest health care provider to adults and young people in contact with the forensic mental health and criminal justice systems in Australia.

Each year, Justice Health NSW staff care for more than 30,000 patients in correctional centres, courts, police cells, youth justice centres, inpatient settings, and in the community. Additionally, Justice Health NSW cares for 40% of forensic patients in NSW.

Justice Health NSW provides multidisciplinary health services to patients, including primary care, drug and alcohol, mental health, population health, women's and midwifery care, oral health, Aboriginal health, youth health, and a range of allied health services. Justice Health NSW also plays a key role in intervention programs to divert people away from custody.
