

AIJA Indigenous Youth Justice Conference

Panelist

Day 2 - Session 12: Gladue-Style Reports

Dr Thalia Anthony

Professor, Faculty of Law
University of Technology

Dr Thalia Anthony is a Professor in the Faculty of Law at the University of Technology Sydney (UTS) and a Research Fellow at Charles Darwin University. Her research primarily relates to criminal laws and procedures and their impacts on First Nations peoples. She has an extensive track record in researching systemic discrimination against

First Nations peoples in criminal sentencing, bail and youth detention.

She is a member of the Advisory Board of Deadly Connections where she works closely on its Bugmy Justice Project to improve processes and outcomes for First Nations people in sentencing. She has also set up similar projects with the Victorian Aboriginal Legal Service and Five Bridges (Queensland). Thalia's first book, Indigenous People, Crime and Punishment (2013), explored histories of discriminatory sentencing and recommended reforms, some of which were incorporated in the 2017 Pathways to Justice Report of the Australian Law Reform Commission.