1.00pm	Thinkwell Workshop - Communicating the Impact of your Research A lot of hard work and time goes into conducting research. And then more time and work goes into publishing the results. And yet sadly many papers are never read and many findings are never translated into practice. So how do you communicate effectively about your research and its impact? This is important to fulfil funding obligations, to create further funding and collaboration opportunities, to encourage the application of your findings and for your own career. https://www.ithinkwell.com.au/services-communicating-impact Who is it for? Any researcher or research candidate who wants to better communicate their research. Facilitator: Mr Hugh Kearns Host: Dr Megan Brewer GRA, Development Advisor	Workshop - 3 Employability Skills for Graduate Researchers This workshop draws on research on employment amongst research graduates to introduce and workshop skills that will aid you in career planning and job seeking. This is not a lecture but a practical workshop, where you'll spend time reflecting on career opportunities, making your existing skillset and interests explicit, and looking at the current job climate for researchers. You'll discuss challenges in your fields, career paths, job-seeking strategies, and tools available to use. The three skills are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Networking • Problem solving • Communicating your experience Facilitators: Dr Andrew Dunstall GRA, Development Advisor Mr Jason Ford GRA, Industry Programs Coordinator
2.30pm		Candidates Supporting Each Other Mr Ashwin Singh Psychologist/Allied Health Officer, MQ Student Wellbeing This session will cover dealing with isolation, along with practical exercises to relieve stress, improve focus and communication. There will also be opportunities for interaction among the group, to acknowledge and support each other's concerns.
