WELCOME

Welcome to Christchurch!

After two and a half years of severely constrained activity and meetings throughout the world, it is great to again be having an international orthopaedic conference in person. In some respects, the world is a very different place since pre COVID, with many new issues particularly relating to waiting lists and constrained service delivery. At the same time, our communities still experience the same pathologies that we have been treating for many years.

The meeting aims to strike a balance between new science increasing our knowledge and understanding of orthopaedic pathology while addressing important contemporary issues of our modern society both globally with our carbon footprint and more specifically with issues of diversity and equity in our training and community service.

We hope you will enjoy the meeting and the opportunity to re-engage with friends and colleagues in the social as well as the academic programmes.

For those of you who are visiting from afar, please take the opportunity to explore the scenic riches on offer in Canterbury and beyond.
