WELCOME ALL AGAIN TO THE APSC CONGRESS 2021 VIRTUAL PLATFORM

We hope that you have enjoyed the first-day APSC scientific program on October 1st. After long working days have just finished, the week-end program is about to start with 18 symposia waiting for you to join. Today's themes are vividly heterogenous as you will experience the sciences behind ISCHEMIA trial both the debatable and the already settled ones, antiplatelet and OAC therapy in various conditions including stroke prevention and CAD. Cardiomyopathy is always mesmerizing. You will learn more about HCM and cardiac amyloidosis. Is infective endocarditis still prevalent at your neighborhood? Come join us to update on diagnosis and treatment of IE. And, if you've found acute heart failure a stone in your shoe, we recommend you mark your schedule at WHF/APSC Joint Symposium-Acute Heart Failure Management.

In the arena of cardiac electrophysiology, cardiac resynchronization therapy as well as Brugada syndrome are on the top lists. Structural heart intervention has many new advancement—TOF with pulmonic valve intervention, TAVI in AS and TEER in MR. COVID-19 will be around for a while, experts in the field will discuss about therapy in multiple aspects from ACS, HF, pharmacology, prevention, rehabilitation to nutrition. This is just a prelude to the second day of APSC congress!!

The meeting hub on the virtual platform is there for you to stay connected with your friends on video call or chat. Feeling tired? Virtual booths provide you an exciting new technology showcases and therapeutic information. And, for those who have trouble with login, please communicate with us via :
