

Bhumijo Hygienic and Comfortable Public Toilet Experience

About Bhumijo

Bhumijo ensures access to hygienic public sanitation for all in Bangladesh. We started our journey in 2017 by creating the country's first women-only toilet at Gausia market, Dhaka. Bhumijo specially cares for women children and differently abled. Our focus on business sustainability ensures that urban poor will continue to receive sanitation services without disruption.

Bhumijo believes that having access to a clean toilet is a human right. No woman should be worried about public toilets while out. Public toilets should be clean and usable when needed. The job of providing clean toilet service should be dignified and valued. Bhumijo envisions to end the public toilet crisis all over Bangladesh by 2030.

Bhumijo works with the government in providing this essential public service. Our partnerships allow us to build and operate on government land. We also partner with private land / building owners to deliver public toilet service. Bhumijo works with private businesses to ensure sustainability of the service.
