

Dana Kupova
Head of Green Economy Transition | Financial Institutions
European Bank for Reconstruction & Development

Dana is Climate and ESG professional, with more than 20 years of experience across emerging markets. Dana is the Head of Green Economy Transition Products in Financial Institutions Group of the EBRD, overseeing the annual delivery of more than EUR 2bn of green financing through a variety of green financial products, and focusing in particular on the development of new products, tackling sustainability and climate change challenges. Dana led the development of Paris alignment approach for financial institutions at the EBRD as well as operationalizing climate risk assessment of EBRD's FI counterparties.