

Innovative Tax Administration A Strategic Workshop

27-29 March 2023 | Tokyo, Japan

Grigori Davtyan

Head of Tax Cooperation Division, International Cooperation Department, State Revenue Committee, Armenia

Born on April 26, 1975 in Stepanakert, Armenia

1997 - Graduated from the Yerevan State Economic University (Department of Management) with a diploma in Labour Economy & Sociology.

Works for the Armenian Tax Administration since 2004.

2016 up to now - Leads the International Cooperation Department and coordinates the activities in the areas of exchange of information, international taxation and cooperation with foreign competent authorities. Acting as a contact person of SRC for a range of international organizations. Participated in the negotiations of several tax treaties as a member of Armenian negotiating team.

2014 to 2016 - Led the Division for Research & Monitoring of Business Environment and was engaged in the Armenian tax legislative reforms. Immediately participated in the development of Armenia's Tax Code, specifically the chapters regulating taxpayer registration, taxpayer services and international taxation, as well in elaboration of secondary legislation in the respective areas.

2008 to 2014 - Led the Taxpayer Service & Training Division in the Methodological Department being immediately involved in introduction and deployment of the SRC network of taxpayer service centres in Armenia, establishment of the SRC Call Centre and launching the SRC Training Centre.

Participated in a number of international trainings and, as a guest lecturer, periodically involved in the training events organized by the SRC Training Centre.

