GLOBAL
ROAD SAFETY
PARTNERSHIP

ABOUT US

- Hosted by the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC)
- Headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland
- Founded in 1999 after IFRC's 1998 World Disasters Report:
 - Identified catastrophic number of traffic injuries and deaths and dramatic consequences on people and their livelihoods
 - IFRC, World Bank and British Govt's Dept for International Development (DFID) decided to create GRSP
 - Member-based organisation
 - Bring together governments, government agencies, private sector & civil society to urgently address road safety

Our vision -

- A world free of road crash death & injury

Our mission —

- Sustainable reduction of road-crash death and injury with a focus on low- and middle-income countries

Our governance –

- Elected Chair and Board (Executive Committee)

We specialise in:

Bringing together relevant stakeholders from business, government and civil society organisations.

Helping them to implement good practice road safety solutions adapted to their local language and culture.

The three “voices” each have something unique to bring to road safety solutions:

- Civil society brings the voice of change and societal improvement.
- The business voice brings target setting and focused efficiency of action.
- The government voice brings the ability to enshrine efficient social change into legislation.

BIGRS Programmes

1. Support civil society to advocate for stronger road safety laws and their implementation:

- Road safety grants programme
- Technical support to grantees

2. Enhance capacity of police and enforcement agencies:

- Develop/strengthen road policing leadership and enforcement strategies.
- Provide training on risk factors & technical assistance with international good practice enforcement strategies.
- Train local police so they can continue training their colleagues (Train the Trainer model) to improve sustainability.
- Support professionalisation of police.

3. Global Road Safety and Road Policing Leadership Courses
