

Addressing the sanitation crisis for the urban poor, Nairobi, Kenya

Understanding the Problem

- Barriers to safe sanitation (dense population, lack of space, complex land tenure, political will, investment & funding, etc.....)
- Traditional solutions not working – a different approach was needed

The views expressed in this presentation are the views of the author/s and do not necessarily reflect the views or policies of the Asian Development Bank or its Board of Governors, or the governments they represent. ADB does not guarantee the accuracy of the data included in this presentation and accepts no responsibility for any consequence of their use. The countries listed in this presentation do not imply any view on ADB's part as to sovereignty or independent status or necessarily conform to ADB's terminology.

Seeking solutions

Partnership

Understanding the Problem & Opportunities

- Stakeholders/interests
- Business models
- The sanitation value chain
- Policy environment

Achievements?

- CBS acceptance
- 100,000+ people accessing safe sanitation
- Waste to value initiatives growing

Technical design and engineering

Community/customer consultation

