

26-28 September • ADB headquarters, Manila, Philippines

Session 4A: Social Protection for Gig Work and Other New Forms of Work

Moderator

Sameer Khatiwada Senior Public Management Economist Public Sector Management and Governance Sector Office, Sectors Group, ADB

Sameer is an economist who leads preparation and implementation of ADB loans and technical assistance projects in the area of public resource management. Prior to his current role, he was with the Southeast Asia Department where he worked in the areas of education, skills development, social protection, and jobs. Before joining the ADB in 2017, he spent close to 10 years at the International Labor Organization.

Panelists

Nuno Cunha

Senior Labour Market Institutions Specialist, Inclusive Labour Markets, Labour Relations and Working Conditions Branch (INWORK), International Labor Organization, Geneva

Nuno Cunha is the Senior Labour Market Institutions Specialist since April 2023. He is an economist with a specialization in Public Policy (Master from the University of York). With more than 20 years of experience in the areas of labor and social protection, Nuno worked at the Ministry of Labour and Social Security of Portugal, before joining the ILO in 2005. In the ILO he worked in the Social Protection Department in Geneva, before moving first to Africa and in 2015 to Bangkok, where he was the Senior Social Protection Specialist for East and South-East Asia until March 2023.

Yesim M. Elhan-Kayalar Advisor, Economic Research and Development Impact Department, ADB

Yesim Elhan-Kayalar is an economist with more than 32 years of work experience in the development sector and academia in 30 countries. She has worked at national and regional levels to create long-term development solutions in public sector management, infrastructure, and finance sectors. During her tenure at ADB, she has held senior positions, including as Country Director for Georgia, where she led ADB's country development strategy and portfolio during 2015-2019. She has served on corporate committees for ADB's governance and public finance policy and interventions. In her current role as Advisor to the Chief Economist of the Asian Development Bank, Elhan-Kayalar specializes in knowledge and policy solutions for high-impact development assistance in Asia and the Pacific. Elhan-Kayalar holds a PhD in economics from the University of California.

Brendan Ming Hui ChiaHead of Regional Public Affairs and Policy
Grab Singapore

Brendan leads the Public Policy team regionally, collaborating closely with governments, multilaterals, and other public stakeholders across the Southeast Asian region on policy topics that advance the socioeconomic welfare of the users of the Grab platform.