

Daniela Marilungo

Managing Director - Head of Public Policy International
Bank of America

Daniela is the Head of Public Policy for International at Bank of America. Based between London and Brussels, Daniela is leading the overall Bank's engagement and advocacy towards the EU institutions and government officials as well as European and national and international policy makers in the EMEA and APAC region, including building support for Bank of America's international priorities. Daniela is a member of the regional Executive Committee and of the EMEA Strategic Council.

Daniela sits in the ESG, Capital Deployment and Public Policy group and she is responsible for identifying and analysing issues that may have an impact on the business of the firm and its clients and engaging with policy makers other governmental entities, as well as business, industry, and trade groups.

With more than 20 years' government affairs experience at the international level, Daniela is responsible for ensuring that Bank of America has the appropriate relationships with Ministries, Parliaments, think-tanks, key embassies, regulators and relevant stakeholders across the region. She represents Bank of America's positions to key audiences and provides political insight to Bank of America's leadership.

Daniela joined bank of America in 2010. Prior to this, Daniela held a variety of senior leadership roles across the financial services sector, including Head of Government Affairs in Brussels for the Italian Banking Association, Head of European Policy for the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, ISDA and in the Legal and Government Affairs practice of Goldman Sachs International, London.

Daniela was voted as the Best European Lobbyist of the Year by Public Affairs Awards. This award is given after thorough consultation with the public affairs community and public sector officials.

Daniela began her career at the European Commission in Brussels where she worked in the directorate responsible for the internal market policy initiatives.

Daniela sits on the Board of Juventus Football Club, and she is the Chair of the Risk and Control Committee at Juventus Football Club and of the ESG Committee.

Daniela graduated with honours from LUISS – Libera Università degli Studi Sociali - Rome, in Political Sciences and International Relations and she holds a Master Degree with honours in EU Law and European Politics and Administration.