

Ben Eijbergen

Practice Manager for Transport,
EAP Region
World Bank

Benedict L. J. Eijbergen is an experienced international infrastructure and development professional and manager. He was appointed as the Practice Manager, Transport, East Asia and Pacific based in Singapore in 2021 and had earlier management assignments in Eastern, Southern and Western Africa. Before that Mr. Eijbergen was the World Bank's Program Leader for Economic Integration and Lead Transport Specialist in India. Mr. Eijbergen performed in his earlier years at the Bank the role of Transport Program Team leader in Eastern Europe & Central Asia and Infrastructure Sector Coordinator for the World Bank's Philippines country office and managed in those capacities a wide range of projects in the road, railways, maritime and urban transport sectors.

Prior to joining the World Bank Mr. Eijbergen worked for the Government of Netherlands' Ministry of Transport, Public Works and Water as Senior Policy Advisor for Infrastructure. In early 1996 Mr. Eijbergen was appointed Transportation, Water Management and Telecommunication Attaché for the Netherlands' Government in Washington D.C.

Mr. Eijbergen has a MScs in Economics from the Erasmus University Rotterdam, The Netherlands.

