

Coaching clinicians to peak performance

Oral health practitioners are highly trained professionals upon whom clients depend to perform well. As a clinical supervisor, you are well positioned to observe a junior colleague's performance and provide them feedback on how they could improve. All too often, however, this feedback is either not received or is misinterpreted. Using a coaching model of supervision, this session will provide a practical framework for supervising all colleagues to be the best they can be, as well as providing insights to managing the more challenging learner.