ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

ALTA 2022 is a world-class annual metallurgical conference, now in its 26th year, and a leading platform for innovation.

The emphasis of the carefully crafted program is practical rather than academic, and the themes running through the conference are the various aspects of technology and project development. Conference topics include operational reviews, new projects, feasibility studies, process and plant design and start-up, developments in equipment, reagents and materials, R&D, mineralogy and environmental.

We are pleased to partner with CSIRO Minerals for the In Situ Recovery (ISR) conference and the Curtin Gold Technology Group for the Gold-PM Conference.

AUDIENCE

Typical attendee profile includes senior technical project and operational personnel, senior management, business development, and research professionals.

Each year the event attracts a highly international audience (typically 40%). ALTA 2020 Online had record attendance with 650 attendees from 48 countries.

Conference report. The most recent in-person event, ALTA 2019, enjoyed our highest face-to-face fact attendance with 450 attendees from 32 countries. Conference report

ALTA conferences are well-known for providing exceptional opportunities for the industry to share ideas, innovations, technologies and projects, develop new contacts and broaden networks.
