Shaping Global Health through Military Medicine

The Australian Defence Force together with the Joint Health Command is delighted to host the 45th ICMM World Congress on Military Medicine, 22-27 September 2024 in Brisbane Australia.

Military Health capabilities have shaped global health through the provision of exceptional humanitarian assistance, disaster relief and research for almost a century. Additionally, the unique characteristics and complexity of the provision of health support to military operations has advanced knowledge in areas such as trauma, tropical medicine and infectious diseases and others.

Join us as we showcase the successes of military medicine in shaping global health and discuss how we might continue to improve our engagement with partners to maximise the contributions of all participants.

About ICMM

The International Committee of Military Medicine (ICMM) is an international and intergovernmental organization created in 1921.

In homage to Belgium which took the initiative in founding the precursory organization of the International Committee of Military Medicine, and organised the first International Congress of Military Medicine, the seat of the Secretariat General of the ICMM is located in Belgium.

The ICMM is an international and intergovernmental organization, constituted by more than 100 States. Major General Jules VONCKEN, MD, Belgium, was the Founder and Secretary General of International Committee of Military Medicine from 1921 to 1975, together with Captain William S. BAINBRIDGE, (US NAVY) Founder of International Committee of Military Medicine.

In 1920, after World War One had revealed the importance of a closer cooperation between the Armed Forces Medical Services worldwide, Captain William S. BAINBRIDGE, MD (US NAVY) and General Jules VONCKEN, MD, Belgium, suggested, at the 28th session of the US Military Officers Association (AMSUS), the creation of an international organization of the Armed Forces Medical Services.

The first international congress of military medicine and pharmacy was held in July 1921, in Brussels, Belgium. The Permanent Committee of the International Congresses of Military Medicine and Pharmacy was officially founded on July 21, 1921. The founding countries were Belgium, Brazil, France, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, United Kingdom and the United States of America.

Our Mission

To enhance the mutual exchange of future orientations, current scientific knowledge and past experiences among military medical services and to foster cooperation between military medicine and international health organizations.

Our Vision

To become the world's leading organization in military medicine, committed to sharing knowledge beyond geographical and ideological borders.

Core values & ethics

The values that guide our thinking and acting are: independence, neutrality, impartiality, universality, reliability, quality and transparency.

Our activities and viewpoints are always driven by moral principles.

Destination

Brisbane, Queensland

Brisbane is the capital of and the most populated city in the Australian state of Queensland and the third most populous city in Australia. Brisbane's metropolitan area has a population of approximately 2.5 million, and the Southeast Queensland metropolitan region, centred on Brisbane, encompasses a population of more than 3.6 million.

The Brisbane central business district stands on the historic European settlement and is situated inside a peninsula of the Brisbane River, about 15 kilometres (9 miles) from its mouth at Moreton Bay, a bay of the Coral Sea. One of the oldest cities in Australia, Brisbane was founded upon the ancient homelands of the indigenous Turrbal and Jagera people.

Brisbane is a city for the senses; walking under impossibly blue skies around this foot-friendly city opens a world of experiences. A well-planned series of paths and bridges connect the city centre to South Bank, as well as many of our urban villages that tease the river's edge as it bends the city, its parks, and gentle skyscrapers.

Brisbane's inner-city suburbs and neighbourhoods each have a different personality to experience. From strolling between shops in Paddington's cute Queenslander cottages, to partying late in Fortitude Valley, checking out South Bank or exploring the city – there is always something to keep visitors busy!
