

Associate Professor John Su

Associate Professor John Su MBBS, MEpi (Melb), MA (Syd), MSt (Cantab), MBA (Dunelm), FRACP, FACD is double boarded in dermatology and paediatrics. He undertook medical training at the University of Melbourne, where he also completed studies in epidemiology before pursuing postgraduate studies at Cambridge and Durham universities.

Following specialist training, he was awarded the Florence bequest for post-fellowship training at the Children's Memorial Hospital, Chicago. He is Director of Dermatology at Eastern Health (Melbourne) and consults at the children's skin services of the Royal Children's Hospital (dermatology and laser), Austin Health, Peninsula Health, Monash Health and Western Health. He holds adjunct positions at Monash University, Eastern Health and in paediatrics at the Murdoch Children's Research Institute, University of Melbourne.

He is an original member of the Australasian Paediatric Dermatology Group, on the international taskforce of the Pediatric Dermatology Research Alliance (PeDRA, USA), and a councillor of the International Eczema Council.

Membership:

Australasian College of Dermatologists
Royal Australasian College of Physicians (paediatrics)
Society of Paediatric Dermatology
European Society of Paediatric Dermatology
Société Française de Dermatologie Pédiatrique

Dr Su has been a principal investigator in numerous clinical trials and has published on haemangiomas and vascular malformations, atopic dermatitis, psoriasis, and genetic and systemic skin diseases. He has a special interest also in children's quality of life.