

Kristina Littman
Chief, Cyber Unit, Division of Enforcement
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission

Kristina Littman is the Chief of the Division of Enforcement’s Cyber Unit, a national, specialized unit that focuses on protecting investors and markets from cyber-related misconduct. Ms. Littman joined the SEC’s Division of Enforcement in 2010 in the Philadelphia office. She has held senior attorney positions in SEC Chairman Jay Clayton’s office, the Trial Unit, and the Market Abuse Unit. Prior to joining the SEC, Ms. Littman practiced law at Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, specializing in white collar and securities litigation. Ms. Littman earned her J.D. and M.B.A. from Rutgers University School of Law – Camden and an undergraduate degree from Florida State University.