

Jeanne Meserve
Moderator, SpyTalk Podcast Co-Host, and CTV Security Analyst

Jeanne Meserve is a national security analyst, moderator, and award-winning journalist. She is currently a Security Expert for Canada's CTV News, and co-host of the SpyTalk podcast. While a correspondent and anchor with CNN and ABC Jeanne Meserve earned her profession's highest honors, including two Emmys and the Edward R. Murrow Award. She also contributed to two CNN Peabody Awards.

In addition to participating in the Homeland Security Experts Group, Jeanne is a member of the Transatlantic Commission on Election Integrity, and serves on the board of the non-profit Space Foundation.

Jeanne moderates discussions on a wide array of topics for clients including the AtlanticLIVE, NATO, the Munich Security Conference, and the Halifax International Security Forum.

While at CNN Jeanne anchored worldwide coverage of the Yitzhak Rabin assassination and the death of Princess Diana. After the 9/11 attacks, Meserve created CNN's homeland security beat, covering intelligence, law enforcement, cyber, aviation, border and port security.