

Amber Bynum
Senior Director, Walmart Health Operations

Amber Bynum is the Senior Director for Walmart Health operations, where she leads the training, execution and patient experience in Walmart Health locations in Georgia and Arkansas and coming soon to Illinois and Florida. Amber is a transformational leader and expert in operational development, passionate about developing and training high-performance teams who exceed expectations and always put the patient first.

Amber joined Walmart in 2012 as a pharmacist and has been promoted into roles of increasing responsibility, including pharmacy clinical services manager, health & wellness market director, and health & wellness regional director. Initiatives she has led include the strategy and implementation of immunizations to the Walmart pharmacy fleet, developing best practices for pharmacists on immunizations and MTM services, and developing a regional adherence program. In 2014, she received the Walmart Health and Excellence in Patient Care award and, in 2015, she was named the Walmart Health and Wellness Pharmacy Clinical Services Manager of the Year.

A double graduate of the University of Arkansas (Pharm D. and B.A. in communications) and a former Miss Arkansas, Amber has served her community as an executive board member for Baptist Health Systems and a volunteer with the Make-A-Wish Foundation, Arkansas Children's Hospital, and the Good Samaritan Pantry. She also earned a "Certificate of Recognition for Outstanding Citizen of Arkansas and Invested Interest in Public Service to the State of Arkansas," from former Governor Mike Beebe.

Amber and her husband, Martin, live in Bentonville, AR, with their children Bennett, Welles, and Laura Beth.
