

Vanessa Neumann
President & Founder, Asymmetrica

Dr. Vanessa Neumann is the president and founder of the Latin American business consultancy, Asymmetrica. She is the author of Blood Profits (2017), and its Brazilian edition, Lucros de Sangue (2018), as well as co-author of The Many Criminal Heads of the Golden Hydra, about trafficking in South America's Tri-Border Area.

For nearly two years, she served as the Venezuelan Interim Government's ambassador to the UK, before returning to the helm of Asymmetrica. Her field work includes the reintegration of Colombian paramilitaries and Hezbollah in Lebanon. She has consultates for the US Departments of State and Defense on asymmetric warfare and illicit finance. Dr. Neumann's multilateral work includes the UN, Wilton Park, and the OECD, where served for four years (2013-2017) on the Task Force to Combat Illicit Trade (TF-CIT).

She holds a doctorate from Columbia University and a fellowship at the Global Justice Program at Yale University. Dr. Neumann is a frequent commentator in the global media and speaks seven languages.