

Different countries, different stories and different journeys towards a common Nutrition Care Process and Terminology – (NCP/NCPT)

Dr Angela Vivanti, Princess Alexandra Hospital (Australia)

Dr Angela Vivanti, Adjunct Associate Professor, University of Queensland, is a Fellow of Dietitians Australia and the Research and Development Dietitian at the Princess Alexandra Hospital, Brisbane. She is Australia's representative, previously chairing the Nutrition Care Process Terminology International Subcommittee and member of the Nutrition Care Process Terminology Research Outcomes Committee.

This work progresses a standardized professional terminology including integration within SNOMED-CT International, optimizing the interface with electronic health records.

Angela has worked on scientific committees of international and national conferences. She has co-authored a case-study text book, publications, evidence-based guidelines and systematic reviews including Cochrane reviews.

Dr Constantina Papoutsakis, Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (United States)

Dr Constantina Papoutsakis is Senior Director, Nutrition and Dietetics Data Science Center of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, Chicago. She is a member of the executive committee and chairs the Professional Practice Committee of the European Federation of Associations of Dietitians. She has published, taught and lead initiatives to monitor best practices internationally regarding Nutrition Care Process model and the Nutrition Care Process Terminology. Terminology (NCPT).

Dr Elin Lövestam, Uppsala University (Sweden)

Dr Elin Lövestam is a Swedish registered dietitian, whose research mainly concerns the dietetic professional role, including the Nutrition Care Process. In her current post-doctoral role at the Department of Food, Nutrition and Dietetics at Uppsala University, she coordinates the International NCP/NCPT Implementation Survey (INIS) study, including researchers and dietitians from 10 different countries.