FOREWORD

Dear participant,

It is NMISA's and my great pleasure to receive you at the Africa Food Safety Workshop 2018, where we aim to contribute to improving food safety control systems in Africa through strengthening networking among food safety stakeholders and forging new partnerships and collaboration opportunities.

This workshop brings together experts within the analytical regulatory food testing laboratories and metrology institutes, researchers in academia, governmental and non-governmental food control programmes.

The workshop commences with the official opening and welcome on Monday, followed immediately with the "Measurement science for mycotoxins in support of food safety" session. The second part of the workshop, starting on Wednesday, is dedicated to "Advancing integrated food safety systems in Africa".

Your participation will provide your organisation with an opportunity to engage with influential scientists and measurement scientists (metrologists) across the globe and key role players from Africa and the international community. I therefore believe that this workshop will be another successful convocation of leading authorities in their various chemical metrology disciplines.

NMISA, as your host, will do our very best to make sure that your time spent at this Workshop is pleasant and fruitful, both socially and scientifically. If you have any questions, suggestions, or complaints, please make them known at the Reception Desk.

Regards,

Ndwakhulu Mukhufhi
