

Dr Napapong Pongnapang

Thailand

Dr Napapong Pongnapang is an assistant professor at the Department of Radiological Technology at Mahidol University in Thailand. He is also an adjunct senior lecturer in Medical Imaging and Radiation Sciences at Monash University, Australia.

He received a bachelor's degree in Radiological Technology from Mahidol University in Thailand. He finished his PhD in medical physics at the University of Texas Health Sciences Center in San Antonio. He holds dual professional qualifications as Thailand licensed radiological technologist and medical physicist.

Napapong is currently President of the International Society of Radiographers and Radiological Technologists (ISRRT). In Thailand, he is an executive committee member for the Thai Medical Physicists Society and an education director for both the Radiological Society of Thailand and the Thai Society of Radiological Technologists.

Napapong has been involved with international organizations such as the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), as an expert in numbers of international and regional projects.