

Professor Bernhard Truffer

Bio:

Bernard Truffer is a research group leader at the Swiss institute Eawag and a professor at Utrecht University for geography of transitions. His work relates to green industry dynamics and sustainability transitions in the energy, transport and urban water sector with projects in Europe, China, the US, India, Kenia and South Africa.