

I am a clinical pharmacologist and HIV clinician who has been working with HIV-infected patients in clinical trials and observational cohorts since 1997. I head the Desmond Tutu Health Foundation (DTHF) Centre for Adherence and Therapeutics, running clinical trials at Groote Schuur Hospital and in the Gugulethu community. My research interests include HIV pharmacology, ART as treatment, adherence/retention in care and resistance to ART.