

Division of Health Psychology Annual Conference 2021

the british psychological society

Congratulations on your abstract being accepted as a poster presentation at the DHP Annual Conference in June 2021. Please take the time to look at the poster presentation guidance below.

Firstly, don't forget to register for the event! You can register here <https://www.delegate-reg.co.uk/dhp2021/registration>.

Your Presentation

Your poster will be available for the duration of the conference for delegates to download and view at their leisure.

Delegates are able to contact you one-to-one via the Meeting Hub which will be available throughout the conference to ask any questions they may have about your research.

Delegates will also be encouraged to view the posters during lunch each day as well as a designated poster viewing session on day 1. Please be available during this time as this is when you're likely to receive most questions but also be aware you could receive questions at any point over the 2 days.

Quick tip: Please make sure you save your presentation and poster with your name as the title.

Creating your content

When creating your poster and presentation, please be mindful to take steps that will ensure your content is accessible to all, these include but not limited to;

- Keeping bullet points to a minimum and concise
 - Use a legible font and size. Please avoid using Serif fonts, where possible
 - Avoid colour combinations that others may struggle to distinguish between, e.g. red and green, green and brown, green and blue etc.
 - Landscape formats display best on a virtual platform
 - There are various software programs available to create your poster, e.g. MS Publisher, MS PowerPoint
 - Be mindful that your organisation/institution may have their own brand guidelines you need to follow.
- Please consult with your colleagues for further details

Sending your poster

Please send a PDF version of your poster to dhp@kc-jones.co.uk by Monday 7th June 2021. We will also be making all posters available for delegates to download after the event has taken place. If you do not want your poster to be shared, please let us know when sending your presentation.

The online platform

The event will be taking place on a platform called OnAIR. More information on how to access the portal will be shared with you nearer to the event.
