NuFor (Nuclear Forensics) is a 3-day technical conference which brings together experts from academia, industry, and government to share developments in the field of Nuclear Forensics. NuFor is an annual conference which started in 2019. This year will mark the conferences 5th Anniversary.

NuFor aims to highlight the role nuclear forensics plays in underpinning sovereign security and the opportunities that exist for those entering the STEM education pipeline. NuFor promotes the exchange of information and good practices between those already involved in nuclear forensics and other specialists who provide value to the Nuclear Forensics community.

The objectives for NuFor are:

- Showcase research and new advances across academia and industry
- Discuss the technical challenges in the field
- Demonstrate the applications of fundamental science in Nuclear Forensics
- Enhance the UK skill base and career pathways in Nuclear Forensics
- Provide a networking opportunity for technical specialists across different disciplines

We hope that the majority of participants will be able to join us in-person; however, for those that can't, there is the option to participate online. As part of celebrations for our 5th anniversary, NuFor 2023 will feature two days of talks from leading nuclear industry speakers, along with a conference poster session, and a third 'showcase' day of talks focusing on cutting edge research being carried out in the field of nuclear forensics. There will also be networking opportunities and a commercial exhibition featuring companies with related interests.

Sponsors and exhibitors from organisations working in all aspects of Nuclear Forensics are invited to support this well-established 3-day conference. The sponsorship and exhibition packages have been designed to maximise your exposure both before and during the event and help elevate your position, while at the same time positively impacting the industry. We are delighted to confirm that we have kept the exhibition package at the same rate as the 2022 conference.

We hope you can join us and look forward to welcoming you to NuFor 2023!
