Information about our use of cookies

Our website may use cookies to collect information about the use of the website and distinguish you from other users of our website.

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store on your browser or the hard drive of your computer if you agree. Currently we use only strictly necessary cookies:

More information on cookies:

Strictly necessary cookies

These are cookies that are required for the operation of our website. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to fill in forms or request services. You cannot turn off these cookies using our website, but you can set your browser to block these cookies. This may prevent some parts of our website working.

Analytical/performance cookies

These would allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our website when they are using it.

Our Registration Site may use Google Analytics, an optional web analytics tool provided by Google, to collect information about how visitors use our site. We use the information to compile reports and to help us improve the site. The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, including the number of visitors to the site, where visitors have come to the site from and the pages they visited.

Functionality cookies

These would allow us to recognise you when you return to our website. We use these cookies to personalise our content for you and remember your preferences (for example, your choice of language or region).

You block cookies by activating the setting on your browser that allows you to refuse the setting of all or some cookies. However, if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of our site.
