

Childcare in companies during school vacations, bridge days, or event day

The work-life balance during school vacations and non-school days can be a particular challenge for parents. Support offered by companies to improve this balance can make a real difference. It not only eases the everyday management for parents but also positively impacts employee satisfaction, retention, and recruitment. Whether it's school vacations, bridge days, or event days, the Flying Nannies provide top-level childcare with a diverse program that can be tailored to your company's needs. Consistent teams with a good caregiver-to-child ratio facilitate children's adaptation and enhance their well-being in childcare. Exciting daily and weekly programs on various themes await the children. And most importantly, fun and games are highly valued at Flying Nanny!

Our offer:

- professional childcare
- local and time flexibility
- age-appropriate care for children of all ages (0 to 12 years) and mixed-age group care
- optimal caregiver-to-child ratio tailored to the age and composition of the children under care
- diverse qualifications and language skills of the flying nannies
- trustworthy and responsible interaction with the children
- customized programs tailored to the needs of the age group, location, and client preferences
- accident insurance coverage for the children

The mobile childcare service offers professional care concepts for company events and non-school days. In addition to regular childcare during bridge days and vacations, the Vienna University Children's Office also provides support for internal company events such as:

- school vacation care
- congresses
- seminars
- events

Who are the flying nannies?

Our Flying Nannies are students from various fields of study, such as pedagogy, psychology, teaching, sociology, and more. They receive additional training from the Vienna University Children's Office and undergo workshops in the following areas:

- play pedagogy
- childcare for young children
- planning and organizing childcare assignments
- first aid for children
- science communication
- media education
- supplementary training programs offered by the Vienna University Children's Office on diverse current pedagogical and didactic topics

