

BJOG Supplement Frequently Asked Questions

Publication of abstracts in BJOG

My abstracts was selected for presentation, do I actually need to present it at the event for it to be included in the BJOG supplement?

The top 30 scoring abstracts where the main presenting author is registered will be published in the BJOG online supplement.

The main presenting author will need to be registered to attend the full event by Thursday 4 January 2024 in order for the abstract to be included.

You can opt out of having your abstract published during the submission process.

Can I make amendments to my abstract before it is published?

Once the submission deadline of 9.00am on Monday 13 November 2023, has passed then no further amendments can be made, even if you are selected to present.

Your abstract will be published exactly how you have submitted it.

Please take the time to ensure that all of the content in your final submitted abstract is correct. Any spelling mistakes or errors will not be amended.

Can I opt out of having my abstract published?

When submitting your abstract on the online portal, you will be given the option to opt out of having your abstract published in BJOG.

Can I cancel/withdraw a submission?

If you wish to withdraw an abstract, we will need to receive confirmation of this by email. Please email Kodi McCarthy at kmccarthy@rcog.org.uk

Please note, if the publication deadline for online supplement has passed by the time of withdrawal request, we cannot guarantee that your abstract will not be published in BJOG.
