

Dr. Carol Hartmann, MBBCh, MSc (Anatomy), PGDipHSE, PhD Candidate Maastricht University Faculty of Health Sciences, University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa.

Carol Hartmann is a clinical lecturer in the Unit for Undergraduate Medical Education at the University of the Witwatersrand in Johannesburg, South Africa. She is the co-Chair of the International Federation of Associations of Anatomists President's Emergent Anatomists Programme (IFAA PEAP), a member of the Federative International Committee for Supranational Anatomical Projects (FICSAP) and the Chair of the Education Interest Group of the Anatomical Society of Southern Africa (ASSA). She is passionate about curriculum evaluation, development, and design as well as the effective use of technology to facilitate students' learning. In her current role as the MBBCh I and II Coordinator, Faculty of Health Sciences, she is responsible for curriculum development in the first two years of the University of the Witwatersrand's Medical programme.