

Dr. Joshua Davimes is a Senior Lecturer in the School of Anatomical Sciences, Faculty of Health Sciences, University of the Witwatersrand. Dr Davimes primarily teaches Clinical Anatomy to 3rd and 4th year Medical students within the Graduate Entry Medical Programme. His current research interests include Comparative Neuroanatomy and Sleep Neurobiology. He also conducts research in Clinical Anatomy and facial identification within Forensics. Dr Davimes is a member of the Anatomical Society of Southern Africa (ASSA).